Matrix CC&N Late-Filed Exhibit

In Decision No. 62896, Z-Tel Communications, Inc. (now Trinsic) was granted a CC&N to provide resold and facilities-based local exchange service. Z-Tel (now Trinsic) was ordered to "... procure a performance bond equal to a minimum of 120 days of intrastate telecommunications revenue, plus the amount of any prepayments and deposits 30 days prior to the provision of service." On August 18, 2003, a bond in the amount of $27,500 was docketed to replace one that had been discontinued. On December 30, 2004 Trinsic filed a rider to the bond which reflected the change in its name from Z-Tel to Trinsic. Staff has also confirmed with the bonding company that the bond is currently in force.

In Docket Nos. T-03589T-07-0231, et al., Staff is recommending cancellation of the Trinsic and Touch 1 Communication, Inc. ("Touch 1") Certificates of Convenience and Necessity ("CC&Ns"). Upon cancellation of the CC&Ns, Trinsic and Touch 1 would no longer be authorized to provide competitive intrastate telecommunications service as a provider of resold interexchange service or as a provider of resold or facilities-based local exchange service in the state of Arizona. Therefore, Trinsic and Touch 1 would no longer be subject to the requirements of Decision Nos. 61540, 61659 or 62896, including the requirement to procure a performance bond.
